

CATALINA BRENES BIOGRAPHY.

Catalina is a Costa Rican jewelry designer based in Berlin. After graduating in Fine Arts at Costa Rica, she started dedicating to jewelry in 2005, first enrolling at "Studio Metallo", then advancing to "Alchimia, contemporary jewelry school" in Florence, Italy, where she studied with masters like Peter Bahuis and Manfred Bischoff. Learning milenary jewellery technics with contemporary approaches.

In 2010-2012, while opening her own workshop in Florence, she worked as assistant at "Antonella Villanova - Art jewelry gallery", having the opportunity to attend with her work in international fairs like Design Basel and Collect, London.

From August 2012 lives and works in Berlin. Obsessed by the essentiality in nature, she aims to create shapes that stand by themselves with purity and balance. Like the environment that stimulates, she constantly seeks to evoke timelessness.